COX'S STATEMENT TO LABOR PROVED TO BE GROSSLY INACCURATE

Claim He Had "Never Pressed a Soldier Into an Industrial Controversy" Not True.

USED OHIO MILITIA TWICE

Question Not About Merits of Strike or Need for Military, but as to Truthfulness.

By WILLIAM HOSER.

Columbus, O.—Governor James M. Cox's quoted labor record has been shattered by his own official act. Claiming that he had "never pressed a soldier into an industrial controversy," the record of his action as governor of Ohio in mobilizing the National Guard of this state for service in the steel strike of 1919 has been produced in flat contradiction of his assertion.

Not once, but on two occasions was the Ohio guard, at an expense of $25,000 to the people of Ohio, called into service and sent to Akron and held in readiness for action in nearby Canton.

The question is not as to the merits of the strike or as to the necessity for the presence of the guard within striking distance of Canton, but concerns wholly the truthfulness of Governor Cox's statement, obviously made to favor among the workmen.

The facts as brought out in the speech of Republican State Chairman George H. Clark, formerly opening the campaign at Columbus, are as follows:

Ordered Guard Out Twice.

After the steel strike had progressed for some days, with more or less disorder, Governor Cox on September 25, 1919, suddenly ordered the mobilization of the guard at Akron. A period of quiet followed, and the troops were withdrawn. And then again, suddenly on October 25 the guard was once more mobilized and sent to Akron, and a time it lay there at that strategic point awaiting a summons into action that office is repeating Governor Cox's glowing words on the situation in Canton.

In his speech at Wheeling, W. Va., on the night of August 14 Governor Cox said:

"For six years I have been in executive authority in the great industrial state of Ohio. During all this time I have never pressed a soldier into an industrial controversy."

The question is not whether Cox told the truth. And he did not.

WHEN RHEUMATISM HITS YOU HARD!

Sloan's Liniment should be kept handy for aches and pains

Why wait for a severe pain, an ache, a rheumatic twinge following exposure, a sore muscle, sciatica, or lumbago to make you quit work, when you should have Sloan's Liniment handy to help curb it and keep you active, and fit, and on the job?

Without rubbing, for it penetrates, apply a bit today to the ailed part. Note the gratifying, clean, prompt relief that follows. Sloan's Liniment couldn't keep its many thousands of friends the world over if it didn't make good. That's worth remembering. All druggists—three sizes—the largest is the most economical. 35c, 70c, $1.40.

McCARTY'S

This $2.00 Book For $1.00

The last two stories by Albert Payson Terhune published in book form have had a splendid sale at $2.00 a copy. Mr. Terhune's latest story, Black Gold, will appear for the first time in the next eleven issues of

The COUNTRY GENTLEMAN

Perhaps you can buy this, too, in a year or so, for $2.00; but I know you can read it right now, while it is new, for $1.00. That sounds to me like a bargain price for a really great story, full of action and thrills.

And if we figure that the $2.00 book alone is worth the $1.00 you pay when you buy it in serial form as part of a year's subscription for THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN, then the rest of the contents of these 52 big weekly issues must come to you without cost. And, besides this story, these issues will bring about 2500 standard book pages of the soundest and most helpful guidance on every problem of your farm business and of the home economy. You'll get articles on Pure-Breds by Pickett, the Department of Agriculture by Marquis, Plant Diseases by O'Brien, Tenant Farming by Johnson, Cut-over Land by Lovejoy, Orchards by Douglass, Poultry by Lewis, 52 issues for 1 dollar!

Handle Lemons Carefully.
Few persons realize how delicate are lemons and the fact that they have to be handled with the same care as is given eggs. This is done to avoid any abrasions to the skin, thus avoiding decay pores through which germs otherwise might enter.

Why Worry About Coal?
The sun and stars do not depend for their heat on contraction, but on some vast reservoir of subatomic energy. A Positive Statement, But a Statement of Fact

Manufacturers in need of business to keep their organizations together come to us and fi-

BECAUSE they know us as one of the most effi-

the East.

BECAUSE they know we can market shoes by the thousands of pairs.

BECAUSE they know they will receive a check
for their shoes within ten days.

BECAUSE we sell for cash only and our large volume of business reduces our costs to such an extent that we can sell shoes on a lower percentage of mark-up than it costs most merchants to do business.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS CURWENSVILLE

From a letter received from Merice Caldwell, by home files, he stated that, while out in the Montana mountains, he was fortunate in slaughtering a huge bull elk. He expects to add several more to his string before he returns home, and is living in the hope that he will also get a grizzly bear.

Dr. H. A. Blay has purchased from Dick Lantz, who is acting in the capacity of district agent, a new light six, five-passenger Studebaker automobile. It is a sturdy piece of machinery and from its build and general appearance ought to stand up on mountain roads all right.

Messrs. George C. Fleming and George Punches, who went to Kingston, N. Y., a week ago on a pleasure-business trip, returned home on Tuesday night. They report that business of all lines is "booming" in the sections of the Empire state which they visited. Extremely dry weather was somewhat of a drawback along certain lines, especially in the sawing of lumber.

Squire James M. Caldwell came over from Tyrone yesterday in order to attend the Masonic banquet. The Squire is one of the oldest members on the roll of Noble Lodge, and never misses an occasion in Masonic circles to be present and enjoy the feast and frolic.

Mrs. Carrie Dyer's Sunday school class will give a supper in the basement of the Presbyterian church to-night. All are invited.

A social party will be held at the home of Eli Bloom, not far from the borough line, on Friday evening, at which a number of invited guests from town will be present. The event is given in honor of Mary Phillips, a daughter of Mrs. George Phillips, who is making her home at Bloom farm house.

MICKIE SAYS

If Backachy Or Kidneys Bother

Eat less meat and take a glass of salts to flush out Kidneys. Drink plenty Water.

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated; and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you just help them flush off the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you'll feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a table-spoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

Annual Rainfall
The annual rainfall at the world is computed by the United States geological survey at 29,347 cubic miles, or which 6,524 cubic miles drains into the sea. Each cubic mile of the river water weighs about 4,200,000 tons and averages about 420,000 tons of foreign matter that passes to the ocean.

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE

THE TABLEUX.

"We will have a new kind of a party," said Peter Gnome.

"What and who will you have at the party?" asked Billie Brownie.

"Well," said Peter Gnome, "I will ask many new friends and all the old ones and I will have an entertainment for the benefit of all."

"I will have it a week from this very evening if that will suit you and the other fairies, and if you will be so good as to help me invite every one. I'd like everyone to come to the party—every single one of our friends."

"I'll do that for you, Peter, and at the same time I will come myself with great pleasure and I will bring all of the other brownies."

"Goodie," said Peter, "and now I must see to all the details of the entertainment which means the main thing, which must be attended to before an entertainment. I'll see you a week from tonight then, at the entertainment."

"You just certainly will," said Billie Brownie and was off.

The word got round quickly that Peter Gnome was going to have a party and that every one was invited. It was a most wonderful thing to think of having a different kind of a party and that there was to be an entertainment for everyone.

Well, everyone was most excited and he in to get out their best party tricks and suits and pressed them and fixed the wigs and did everything to make them look lovelier than ever.

At last the evening came for the party. Peter Gnome wearing a deep blue suit—the color that the sky sometimes is—led with a tall blue cap on his head with bells jingling from it welcomed all his friends. He was the only gnome around then.

How do you do, Brownies, Fairies, Elves, old Mr. Gnom, Witty Witch, Pious Family, everyone! I'm so glad to see you all. Do take your places and the party will begin. See! I have chairs for all of you."

There was a little doorway made of evergreen and flowers, through which all the guests walked into a big open space in the woods, where there were many seats and cushions and benches made of wood and decorated with evergreens and flowers and ferns.

At the other end were some curtains which were a little stage. Throughout the wooded opening there were Japanese lanterns of many colors and having streamers upon them which almost reached the ground. It looked very lovely and very gay in the twilight with Mr. Moon helping the "fairies do their work."

"We are ready," said Peter Gnome, at last. "This evening the gnomes are going to do some tableaux for you. They are going to pose as different kinds of pictures, pictures we have thought of and pictures of stories we all know well. I will announce each picture before it is shown and I also wish to announce that the gnomes themselves made all their costumes. Now we will begin."

There was an orchestra playing back of some of the trees and the curtains were thrown wide open.

Many pictures of tableaux were given, all posed and acted by the gnomes. There was one of Morning with a girl sitting over a hill and a lot of sheep, boys and girls, stretching their arms and waving up.

That was another of a girl and Mr. Moon high of hand to see a cut-throat picture of a girl.

On a branch of a make-believe tree sat a make-believe owl—a gnome.

dressed up, wearing a costume to make him look just like an owl.

But the tableau which received the greatest applause was that of the Bogey Man—grandfather of the bogey family weeping because children had been told he was bad and didn't love them. The curtain was closed for a moment and then they saw the Bogey Man surrounded by children and they were crying.

"It's a shame dear Bogey Man that folks don't all know how nice you are and that we love you and aren't afraid of you dear Bogey Man!"

ROSS & WOODS

Speed May Overcome Weight.
Professor Edward V. Huntington of Harvard university, showed by an elaborate mass of figures printed in Science that a man on a train moving along the equator westward at 18,700 miles an hour or eastward at 16,700 miles an hour would weigh nothing, as measured by an observer on the train.

So Is the Price.
The power derived from a pound of coal today is nearly three times as great as it was 50 years ago.

To Put Out Gasoline Fire.
While pure sawdust gives excellent results in putting out a small gasoline fire, a mixture of ten pounds of bicarbonate of soda with 12 pounds of clean sawdust is the best medium to have on hand, says Everyday Engineering. Have the sawdust dry and free from chips. The sawdust forms an airtight blanket as it floats on the burning liquid, and at the same time the heat of the flame generates carbonic acid gas. This gas, together with the sawdust, keeps the oxygen in the air away from the flame and quickly smothers it.

Easily Detected.
A thimble who recently escaped from an asylum was eventually recaptured in a large dancing hall in the west end. The fact that he was waltzing divinely and keeping perfect time with the music aroused the other dancers' suspicions and led to his recapture.—Punch, London.

Rub It On Freely. Nothing Speedier or Better Says Woodward & McPhearson Who Are Selling Lots of It On the Money Back if Dissatisfied Plan.

For miles around people are coming to 20th Century Liniment. The report of its mighty power to end aches and pains almost instantly and overcome all soreness and lameness has had its effect and druggists throughout the country report having a hard time keeping it in stock.

20th Century Liniment never disappears and will neither burn nor blister. It brings quick relief from Neuralgia, Rheumatic Pains and twinges, Sprains and all soreness of nerves and muscles.

Don't think that because 20th Century Liniment doesn't hurt, burn and blister it isn't doing good. It brings comforting, soothing relief with the first rub. Try it tonight and see if you don't feel fit as a fiddle in the morning. If it doesn't do all and more than we claim for it, take the bottle back to your druggist and he will return you your money without question.

Keep a bottle in the house all the time. You may need it on short notice, and remember that it is only sold on the money back if dissatisfied plan. Woodward & McPhearson can supply you.

Sea Serpents Really Exist.
Although many of us may have an idea that sea serpents exist nowhere but in fiction, that is not the case, and of all snakes they are the most venomous. In tropical waters they are vastly numerous, especially in the Indian ocean, where they are often seen literally by hundreds swimming at the surface of the water. They are six to eight feet long, very fierce and will commonly attack human beings. Their bodies are flat and almost wholly filled by the lungs.

Monopoly of Mocha Sheepskins.
The world's supply of Mocha sheepskin is obtained by about a dozen buyers, who have their native collectors in caravans to collect the skins at various centers, of which Mocha, Berbera, Zeylah and Hogeldah are the main points, from which they are sent to Aden, a British coaling station, which, on account of the exact location, is the shipping point for skins sent to London, the continent of Europe, and the United States.

Coconut Tree's Many Virtues.
The coconut is one of the most useful of all trees to the natives of the regions where the coconut grows. The nut comprises a food and drink and the milk of the nut may be made into an intoxicant where that is desired. Its fiber is used for making ropes, rugs and matting and the husk for fuel. The wood is very durable and in the hands of the natives it is used for many purposes.

Everything New.
Robert's father had just been married the second time. One afternoon Robert had a friend of his over to his new home. After he had shown the little boy all through the house he said: "Do you know, Clark, everything in this house is new, even my mother."

PRINCIPAL SOURCES OF LOSS IN MANURE

Plan to Avoid Leaching, Fermentation and Scatterings.

Cost of Handling Is an Important Point in Storing—Best to Leave Fertilizer Where Produced Until Spread on Field.

The principal sources of loss in plant food from manure are through leaching, fermentation and scattering, and if manure is to be stored, all practical precautions should be taken to keep down loss from any of these agencies. An important point to consider in storing manure is the cost of handling. Handling manure increases the expense and at the same time lowers the value of the manure since the forking over of compacted manure exposes it to the air and gives the material a better chance to ferment and decay. For these reasons it is best to leave manure undisturbed where produced, so far as possible, until it can be hauled to the field, says F. L. Duley of the University of Missouri, college of agriculture.

Where animals are confined in stalls or covered feeding yards the manure may be allowed to accumulate for several months and be hauled out only once or twice a year, with a comparatively small loss of plant food. If plenty of bedding is used it will absorb the liquid manure and the trampling of the animals will keep this compact and moist so as to prevent much of the aerobic fermentation and consequent loss of nitrogen. If manure is left in the stall or feed yard where it will be kept moist and thoroughly tramped, so as to exclude the air, there is no better method of storing. Since there is no leaching under these conditions there will be practically no loss of phosphorus or potash. The covered feed yard is extensively used in some parts of the country, and deserves more attention in Missouri.

This method of handling manure is advisable mainly where well-bedded stalls are provided for horses, and in cattle sheds or mule barns where the animals run loose and the trampling is more thorough.

PREPARE HOGS FOR SHIPPING

Animals Will Ride Easier on Empty Stomachs—After Loading Soak Well With Water.

The hogs should not be fed heavily before loading, since they ride better on an empty stomach. They should not be put into the cars too long before the train leaves the loading station, because they can stand the heat much better in the pen than they can in the car. They should be soaked with cool water. If the owner accompanies the shipment he should see that they are sprinkled en route. He should also see that the hogs do not crowd in the cars. At points where the train stops it is advisable for him to use a pole and keep the hogs on their feet, to guard against others crowding and smothering them.

FAT THANKSGIVING TURKEYS

Fowls Will Begin to Hang Around Farm Buildings When Range Falls in Abundance.

The Thanksgiving turkey will begin to hang around the farm buildings when the range falls to feed them abundantly. Turkeys fatten better and thrive better on old grain. Enough old corn should be held over to feed them up to Thanksgiving. However, the fattening process should not begin until early November. The important thing is to feed enough each night to keep them in the habit of coming home, and to give them an airy place to roost in and clean water to drink, so that they may build a vigorous constitution and a generous framework to hold white and dark meat for the Thanksgiving dinner.

CULTIVATING ALFALFA FIELDS

Weeds Are Destroyed, Moisture Is Conserved and Soil Put in Better Condition.

It is well to remember that the alfalfa crop responds to cultivation as readily as any other crop on the farm. Many alfalfa fields would give increased yields if they received a thorough cultivation. The chief benefits derived by cultivation are destroying weeds, conserving moisture and putting the soil in better physical condition.

HOT WEATHER DISHES.

There is nothing one may prepare which takes the place of salads of various kinds, especially on hot days.

Simple Onion Salad.—Take the small green-topped onions, slice very thin and serve with a dressing of sour cream, salt and paprika. Served with bread and butter it is a meal with a glass of good cold milk.

Tomato Jelly Salad.—To one can of stewed tomato, well strained, add one teaspoonful each of salt and powdered sugar and two-thirds of a box of gelatin softened in one-half cupful of cold water. Pour into small cups and chill. When ready to serve unmold on head lettuce and serve covered with mayonnaise dressing.

Tomatoes Stuffed With Asparagus Tips.—Prepare tomato shell; invert to drain. Cut cold cooked and seasoned asparagus tips in bits and fill the shells after salting them. Season with grated onion, cover with mayonnaise and serve well chilled.

Sweetbreads and Cucumber Salad.—Mix cooked sweetbreads, cut in dice with half the amount of cubed cucumbers and a half cupful of diced celery. Mix with mayonnaise and serve on lettuce.

Cottage Cheese and Chives Salad.—Mix two cupfuls of well-seasoned cottage cheese which has been enriched with thick cream with one-half cupful of finely minced chives. Mold and serve with a simple bottled dressing.

Cucumbers in Sour Cream.—Peel and slice cucumbers as usual, cover with cold water to which a tea-spoonful of salt has been added. Let them stand until well wilted, drain and plunge into ice water. Let stand for a half hour, drain and dry on a cloth, then cover with a thick, sour cream which has been seasoned with salt, cayenne pepper, a dash of mustard and a tea-spoonful of sugar. If the cream is not sour enough add a dash of vinegar. Serve well chilled.

Summer Dessert.—Fill a baked pastry shell with fresh fruit, top with ice cream or whipped cream and serve from the table.

The hour glass principle has been employed in an almost automatic concrete mixer in which the ingredients fall through three cone-shaped hoppers in succession and are kneaded together.

Sulphur Eases Piles At Once

Almost Instant Relief at Once and at Very Small Cost.

The moment you apply a little Mentho-Sulphur the itching, irritation and bleeding stops. Don't continue to suffer because quick relief awaits you. Any druggist will supply you with a small jar of Mentho-Sulphur. This seems to soothe, heat and dry up the trouble quicker than anything else.

Lady-Slipper.
Three of the well-known varieties of the beautiful orchid found in the temperate zone are called the pink lady-slipper, the yellow moccasin flower, and the showy lady-slipper which is white with purplish pink or crimson stripes. These names have been given the flowers as they bear a curious resemblance to a slipper.

SENATOR HARDING PROPOSES WELFARE POST IN CABINET

Tells 12,000 Women He Favors
Department in Defense of
Mothers, Childhood and Public Health.

TO ADVANCE SOCIAL JUSTICE.

Emphasizes Need of Safeguarding Women on American Farms.
Stands for Enforcement of Law

Marion, O.—The creation of a Federal Department of Public Welfare to function in defense of maternity, childhood and public health was proposed by Senator Harding in a speech on social justice to 5,000 women who came to his front porch from all points of the compass.

Such a department, said Senator Harding, must "avoid the fearful results of bureaucracy. There can be no more efficient way of advancing a humanitarian program," he said, "than by adapting the machinery of our Federal Government to the purposes we desire to attain. While others may have their eyes fixed upon some particular piece of legislation or more particular policy of social justice which calls for the sympathetic interest of us all, I call, without hesitation, that our primary consideration must be the machinery of administration, and that when the time comes for us to reorganize our administrative government in Washington we must all stand together for the creation of a Department of Public Welfare.

"I pledge myself today," he said, "to support with all that is in me whatever practical policy of social welfare and social justice can be brought forward by the combined wisdom of all Americans. Nothing can concern me as an American, more deeply than the health, the happiness and the enlightenment of every fellow American."

Must Avoid Paternalism.
"The social justice that I conceive is not paternalism. It would be easy to make it so, and dangerous indeed to the best spirit that Americans can have—the spirit of expressing by the individual free will one's own merits, capacity and worth. We do not want government to suppress that expression of free will, even by benevolence, but we do mean to preserve in America an equal opportunity and a preparedness for self-expression therein, even though we use the government to do it."

"I believe that there is no step more practical, no step which will mean more to the growth of America's social welfare; no step which will guarantee better America's social justice, than one which I propose to you."

Dangers to Be Avoided.
"I have no doubt that there will be some who will find in this proposal cause for calling me an extremist, but when we have a task to do, which has been dictated by our conscience and approved by our wisdom, let us straightway find the way to do it. I do not say this without a word of caution. I recognize certain dangers, which are always presented when government undertakes large and detailed tasks."

Tasks of Social Justice.
Senator Harding pointed out the necessity of going forward upon a sure footing and declared:
"When making the proposal for a department of public welfare to America, I am aware that I have made a step in advance of any platform. We all know that we face tasks of social justice, which we must undertake with dispatch and efficiency. Who can suggest one of these tasks which can supersede in our hearts, or in the rank which foresight and wisdom will give that of the protection of our maternity?"

"The protection of the motherhood of America can not be accomplished until the state and the nation have enacted, and by their example, have enforced customs, which protect womanhood itself. I know full well that there are women who insist that women shall be treated upon the same basis that men are treated."

Senator Harding discussed the need of adequate protection for women in industry and expressed his belief in the wisdom of an eight-hour day for women workers. He emphasized the need of safeguarding the women on American farms. He proposed putting the Children's Bureau under the suggested Department of Public Welfare, and urged prevention of abuses of child labor.

"I must not fail," Senator Harding went on, "to speak to you today of one of the measures of social justice and social welfare not often catalogued in this manner, but perhaps more important than any we have considered. I refer to the enforcement of law. It will not be my business when elected to decide what laws shall be. It will be legitimate for me to invoke public opinion for their enactment, but such a call to public opinion must be based more upon the duty of the Executive of the nation to give facts to the people than upon his desire to give opinion, theory and propaganda. The enforcement of the law is an Executive responsibility and must be undertaken by the Executive without regard for his personal approval or disapproval of the law, which it has been the people's will to enact."

Public Health.

TO ADVANCE SOCIAL JUSTICE.

Emphasizes Need of Safeguarding Women on American Farms.
Stands for Enforcement of Law

Marion, O.—The creation of a Federal Department of Public Welfare to function in defense of maternity, childhood and public health was proposed by Senator Harding in a speech on social justice to 5,000 women who came to his front porch from all points of the compass.

Such a department, said Senator Harding, must "avoid the fearful results of bureaucracy. There can be no more efficient way of advancing a humanitarian program," he said, "than by adapting the machinery of our Federal Government to the purposes we desire to attain. While others may have their eyes fixed upon some particular piece of legislation or more particular policy of social justice which calls for the sympathetic interest of us all, I call, without hesitation, that our primary consideration must be the machinery of administration, and that when the time comes for us to reorganize our administrative government in Washington we must all stand together for the creation of a Department of Public Welfare.

"I pledge myself today," he said, "to support with all that is in me whatever practical policy of social welfare and social justice can be brought forward by the combined wisdom of all Americans. Nothing can concern me as an American, more deeply than the health, the happiness and the enlightenment of every fellow American."

Must Avoid Paternalism.
"The social justice that I conceive is not paternalism. It would be easy to make it so, and dangerous indeed to the best spirit that Americans can have—the spirit of expressing by the individual free will one's own merits, capacity and worth. We do not want government to suppress that expression of free will, even by benevolence, but we do mean to preserve in America an equal opportunity and a preparedness for self-expression therein, even though we use the government to do it."

"I believe that there is no step more practical, no step which will mean more to the growth of America's social welfare; no step which will guarantee better America's social justice, than one which I propose to you."

Dangers to Be Avoided.
"I have no doubt that there will be some who will find in this proposal cause for calling me an extremist, but when we have a task to do, which has been dictated by our conscience and approved by our wisdom, let us straightway find the way to do it. I do not say this without a word of caution. I recognize certain dangers, which are always presented when government undertakes large and detailed tasks."

Tasks of Social Justice.
Senator Harding pointed out the necessity of going forward upon a sure footing and declared:
"When making the proposal for a department of public welfare to America, I am aware that I have made a step in advance of any platform. We all know that we face tasks of social justice, which we must undertake with dispatch and efficiency. Who can suggest one of these tasks which can supersede in our hearts, or in the rank which foresight and wisdom will give that of the protection of our maternity?"

"The protection of the motherhood of America can not be accomplished until the state and the nation have enacted, and by their example, have enforced customs, which protect womanhood itself. I know full well that there are women who insist that women shall be treated upon the same basis that men are treated."

Senator Harding discussed the need of adequate protection for women in industry and expressed his belief in the wisdom of an eight-hour day for women workers. He emphasized the need of safeguarding the women on American farms. He proposed putting the Children's Bureau under the suggested Department of Public Welfare, and urged prevention of abuses of child labor.

"I must not fail," Senator Harding went on, "to speak to you today of one of the measures of social justice and social welfare not often catalogued in this manner, but perhaps more important than any we have considered. I refer to the enforcement of law. It will not be my business when elected to decide what laws shall be. It will be legitimate for me to invoke public opinion for their enactment, but such a call to public opinion must be based more upon the duty of the Executive of the nation to give facts to the people than upon his desire to give opinion, theory and propaganda. The enforcement of the law is an Executive responsibility and must be undertaken by the Executive without regard for his personal approval or disapproval of the law, which it has been the people's will to enact."

COX'S STATEMENT TO LABOR PROVED TO BE GROSSLY INACCURATE

Claim He Had "Never Pressed a Soldier Into an Industrial Controversy" Not True.

USED OHIO MILITIA TWICE

Question Not About Merits of Strike or Need for Military, but as to Truthfulness.

By WILLIAM HOSER.

Columbus, O.—Governor James M. Cox's quoted labor record has been shattered by his own official act. Claiming that he had "never pressed a soldier into an industrial controversy," the record of his action as governor of Ohio in mobilizing the National Guard of this state for service in the steel strike of 1919 has been produced in flat contradiction of his assertion.

Not once, but on two occasions was the Ohio guard, at an expense of $25,000 to the people of Ohio, called into service and sent to Akron and held in readiness for action in nearby Canton.

The question is not as to the merits of the strike or as to the necessity for the presence of the guard within striking distance of Canton, but concerns wholly the truthfulness of Governor Cox's statement, obviously made to favor among the workmen.

The facts as brought out in the speech of Republican State Chairman George H. Clark, formerly opening the campaign at Columbus, are as follows:

Ordered Guard Out Twice.

After the steel strike had progressed for some days, with more or less disorder, Governor Cox on September 25, 1919, suddenly ordered the mobilization of the guard at Akron. A period of quiet followed, and the troops were withdrawn. And then again, suddenly on October 25 the guard was once more mobilized and sent to Akron, and while it lay there at that strategic point awaiting a summons into action staff officers reported Governor Cox's personal watch on the situation in Canton.

In his speech at Wheeling, W. Va., on the night of August 14 Governor Cox said:

"For six years I have been in executive authority in the great industrial state of Ohio. During all this time I have never pressed a soldier into an industrial controversy."

The question of the Governor Cox's statement is not a matter of opinion.

A Positive Statement, But a Statement of Fact

Manufacturers in need of business to keep their organizations together come to us and fi-

BECAUSE they know us as one of the most efficient and successful retail shoe organizations in the East.

BECAUSE they know we can market shoes by
the thousands of pairs.

BECAUSE they know they will receive a check
for their shoes within ten days.

BECAUSE we sell for cash only and our large volume of business reduces our costs to such an extent that we can sell shoes on a lower percentage of mark-up than it costs most merchants to do business.

You Can Do This If You Have A Royal Electric Vacuum Cleaner

You will not have to wear an old house dress and put the wet head in a towel as you do when you use a broom.

And you need not rush to change your dress when the leader of your social club coming up the street.

When the door bell rings you can just drop your work and entertain your caller without the slightest embarrassment.

That is the great advantage of household "electrical servants". Woman loses none of her charm and the work is done better and at less expense.

We supply "electrical servants"—ask us for information. Try a Royal Cleaner—thus decide.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS CURWENSVILLE

From a letter received from Merice Caldwell, by home files, he stated that, while out in the Montana mountains, he was fortunate in slaughtering a huge bull elk. He expects to add several more to his string before he returns home, and is living in the hope that he will also get a grizzly bear.

Dr. H. A. Blay has purchased from Dick Lantz, who is acting in the capacity of district agent, a new light six, five-passenger Studebaker automobile. It is a sturdy piece of machinery and from its build and general appearance ought to stand up on mountain roads all right.

Messrs. George C. Fleming and George Punches, who went to Kingston, N. Y., a week ago on a pleasure-business trip, returned home on Tuesday night. They report that business of all lines is "booming" in the sections of the Empire state which they visited. Extremely dry weather was somewhat of a drawback along certain lines, especially in the sawing of lumber.

Squire James M. Caldwell came over from Tyrone yesterday in order to attend the Masonic banquet. The Squire is one of the oldest members on the roll of Noble Lodge, and never misses an occasion in Masonic circles to be present and enjoy the feast and frolic.

Mrs. Carrie Dyer's Sunday school class will give a supper in the basement of the Presbyterian church to-night. All are invited.

A social party will be held at the home of Eli Bloom, not far from the borough line, on Friday evening, at which a number of invited guests from town will be present. The event is given in honor of Mary Phillips, a daughter of Mrs. George Phillips, who is making her home at Bloom farm house.

MICKIE SAYS

If Backachy Or Kidneys Bother

Eat less meat and take a glass of salts to flush out Kidneys. Drink plenty Water.

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated; and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you just help them flush off the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you'll feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a table-spoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

Annual Rainfall
The annual rainfall at the world is computed by the United States geological survey at 29,347 cubic miles, or which 6,524 cubic miles drains into the sea. Each cubic mile of the river water weighs about 4,200,000 tons and averages about 420,000 tons of foreign matter that passes to the ocean.

Selfishness
Think about yourselves, not what you want, what you like, what respect people ought to pay to you, what people think of you, and then to you nothing will be pure.—Charles Kingsley.

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE

THE TABLEUX.

"We will have a new kind of a party," said Peter Gnome.

"What and who will you have at the party?" asked Billie Brownie.
"Well," said Peter Gnome, "I will ask many new friends and all the old ones and I will have an entertainment for the benefit of all."

"I will have it a week from this very evening if that will suit you and the other fairies, and if you will be so good as to help me invite every one. I'd like everyone to come to the party—every single one of our friends."

"I'll do that for you, Peter, and at the same time I will come myself with great pleasure and I will bring all of the other brownies."

"Goodie," said Peter, "and now I must see to all the details of the entertainment which means the main thing, which must be attended to before an entertainment. I'll see you a week from tonight then, at the entertainment."

"You just certainly will," said Billie Brownie and was off.

The word got round quickly that Peter Gnome was going to have a party and that every one was invited. It was a most wonderful thing to think of having a different kind of a party and that there was to be an entertainment for everyone.

Well, everyone was most excited and he in to get out their best party tricks and suits and pressed them and fixed the wigs and did everything to make them look lovelier than ever.

At last the evening came for the party. Peter Gnome wearing a deep blue suit—the color that the sky sometimes is—led with a tall blue cap on his head with bells jingling from it welcomed all his friends. He was the only gnome around then.

How do you do, Brownies, Fairies, Elves, old Mr. Gnom, Witty Witch, Pious Family, everyone! I'm so glad to see you all. Do take your places and the party will begin. See! I have chairs for all of you."

There was a little doorway made of evergreen and flowers, through which all the guests walked into a big open space in the woods, where there were many seats and cushions and benches made of wood and decorated with evergreens and flowers and ferns.

At the other end were some curtains which were a little stage. Throughout the wooded opening there were Japanese lanterns of many colors and having streamers upon them which almost reached the ground. It looked very lovely and very gay in the twilight with Mr. Moon helping the "fairies do their work."

"We are ready," said Peter Gnome, at last. "This evening the gnomes are going to do some tableaux for you. They are going to pose as different kinds of pictures, pictures we have thought of and pictures of stories we all know well. I will announce each picture before it is shown and I also wish to announce that the gnomes themselves made all their costumes. Now we will begin."

There was an orchestra playing back of some of the trees and the curtains were thrown wide open.

Many pictures of tableaux were given, all posed and acted by the gnomes. There was one of Morning with a girl sitting over a hill and a lot of sheep, boys and girls, stretching, dancing and playing up.

That was another of a girl and Mr. Moon high of hand to see a cut-throat picture of a girl and on a branch of a make-believe tree sat a make-believe owl—a gnome.

Remember, I stand back of every box. Every druggist guarantees to refund the purchase price (60 cents) if (Peterson's) Ointment doesn't do all I claim.

I guarantee it for eczema, old sores, running sores, salt rheum, ulcers, sore nipples, broken breasts, itching skin, skin diseases, blind, bleeding and itching piles as well as for chafing, burns, scalds, cuts, bruises and sunburn.

"I had 30 running sores on my leg for 11 years, was in three different hospitals. Amputation was advised. Skin grafting was tried. I was cured by using Peterson's Ointment."—Mr. F. E. Root, 287 Michigan Avenue, Buffalo, N. Y.

Rules.

Beth, aged six, announced at dinner: "Papa I have made up three rules to go by, and I am going to keep them all my life. First, 'Be kind to everyone'; second, 'Keep out of danger'; third and best of all, 'When I grow up and get married and have a little girl of my own—if I have one—and the house gets adre, save the child.'"—From Life.

Revolutionary Rule.
According to the medical column of a weekly paper, a person suffering from exhaustion should be put to bed and allowed to sleep as long as possible. This evidently does away with the old idea of awaking the sufferer every twenty minutes in order to ask him if he is still tired.

ROSS & WOODS

Speed May Overcome Weight.
Professor Edward V. Huntington of Harvard university, showed by an elaborate mass of figures printed in Science that a man on a train moving along the equator westward at 18,700 miles an hour or eastward at 16,700 miles an hour would weigh nothing, as measured by an observer on the train.

So Is the Price.
The power derived from a pound of coal today is nearly three times as great as it was 50 years ago.

To Put Out Gasoline Fire.
While pure sawdust gives excellent results in putting out a small gasoline fire, a mixture of ten pounds of bicarbonate of soda with 12 pounds of clean sawdust is the best medium to have on hand, says Everyday Engineering. Have the sawdust dry and free from chips. The sawdust forms an airtight blanket as it floats on the burning liquid, and at the same time the heat of the flame generates carbonic acid gas. This gas, together with the sawdust, keeps the oxygen in the air away from the flame and quickly smothers it.

Easily Detected.
A thimble who recently escaped from an asylum was eventually recaptured in a large dancing hall in the west end. The fact that he was waltzing divinely and keeping perfect time with the music aroused the other dancers' suspicions and led to his recapture.—Punch, London.

For Rheumatism and Lumbage It's One Grand Remedy

Rub It On Freely. Nothing Speedier or Better Says Woodward & McPhearson Who Are Selling Lots of It On the Money Back if Dissatisfied Plan.

For miles around people are coming to 20th Century Liniment. The report of its mighty power to end aches and pains almost instantly and overcome all soreness and lameness has had its effect and druggists throughout the country report having a hard time keeping it in stock.

20th Century Liniment never disappears and will neither burn nor blister. It brings quick relief from Neuralgia, Rheumatic Pains and twinges, Sprains and all soreness of nerves and muscles.

Don't think that because 20th Century Liniment doesn't smart, burn and blister it isn't doing good. It brings comforting, soothing relief with the first rub. Try it tonight and see if you don't feel fit as a fiddle in the morning. If it doesn't do all and more than we claim for it, take the bottle back to your druggist and he will return your money without question.

Keep a bottle in the house all the time. You may need it on short notice, and remember that it is only sold on the money back if dissatisfied plan. Woodward & McPhearson can supply you.

Sea Serpents Really Exist.
Although many of us may have an idea that sea serpents exist nowhere but in fiction, that is not the case, and of all snakes they are the most venomous. In tropical waters they are vastly numerous, especially in the Indian ocean, where they are often seen literally by hundreds swimming at the surface of the water. They are six to eight feet long, very fierce and will commonly attack human beings. Their bodies are flat and almost wholly filled by the lungs.

Monopoly of Mocha Sheepskins.
The world's supply of Mocha sheepskin is obtained by about a dozen buyers, who have their native collectors in caravans to collect the skins at various centers, of which Mocha, Berbera, Zeylah and Hogeldah are the main points, from which they are sent to Aden, a British coaling station, which, on account of the exact location, is the shipping point for skins sent to London, the continent of Europe, and the United States.

Coconut Tree's Many Virtues.
The coconut is one of the most useful of all trees to the natives of the regions where the coconut grows. The nut comprises a food and drink and the milk of the nut may be made into an intoxicant where that is desired. Its fiber is used for making ropes, rugs and matting and the husk for fuel. The wood is very durable and in the hands of the natives it is used for many purposes.

Everything New.
Robert's father had just been married the second time. One afternoon Robert had a friend of his over to his new home. After he had shown the little boy all through the house he said: "Do you know, Clark, everything in this house is new, even my mother."

PRINCIPAL SOURCES OF LOSS IN MANURE

Plan to Avoid Leaching, Fermentation and Scatterings.

Cost of Handling Is an Important Point in Storing—Best to Leave Fertilizer Where Produced Until Spread on Field.

The principal sources of loss in plant food from manure are through leaching, fermentation and scattering, and if manure is to be stored, all practical precautions should be taken to keep down loss from any of these agencies. An important point to consider in storing manure is the cost of handling. Handling manure increases the expense and at the same time lowers the value of the manure since the forking over of compacted manure exposes it to the air and gives the material a better chance to ferment and decay. For these reasons it is best to leave manure undisturbed where produced, so far as possible, until it can be hauled to the field, says F. L. Duley of the University of Missouri, college of agriculture.

Where animals are confined in stalls or covered feeding yards the manure may be allowed to accumulate for several months and be hauled out only once or twice a year, with a comparatively small loss of plant food. If plenty of bedding is used it will absorb the liquid manure and the trampling of the animals will keep this compact and moist so as to prevent much of the aerobic fermentation and consequent loss of nitrogen. If manure is left in the stall or feed yard where it will be kept moist and thoroughly tramped, so as to exclude the air, there is no better method of storing. Since there is no leaching under these conditions there will be practically no loss of phosphorus or potash. The covered feed yard is extensively used in some parts of the country, and deserves more attention in Missouri.

This method of handling manure is advisable mainly where well-bedded stalls are provided for horses, and in cattle sheds or mule barns where the animals run loose and the trampling is more thorough.

PREPARE HOGS FOR SHIPPING

Animals Will Ride Easier on Empty Stomachs—After Loading Soak Well With Water.

The hogs should not be fed heavily before loading, since they ride better on an empty stomach. They should not be put into the cars too long before the train leaves the loading station, because they can stand the heat much better in the pen than they can in the car. They should be soaked with cool water. If the owner accompanies the shipment he should see that they are sprinkled en route. He should also see that the hogs do not crowd in the cars. At points where the train stops it is advisable for him to use a pole and keep the hogs on their feet, to guard against others crowding and smothering them.

FAT THANKSGIVING TURKEYS

Fowls Will Begin to Hang Around Farm Buildings When Range Falls in Abundance.

The Thanksgiving turkey will begin to hang around the farm buildings when the range falls to feed them abundantly. Turkeys fatten better and thrive better on old grain. Enough old corn should be held over to feed them up to Thanksgiving. However, the fattening process should not begin until early November. The important thing is to feed enough each night to keep them in the habit of coming home, and to give them an airy place to roost in and clean water to drink, so that they may build a vigorous constitution and a generous framework to hold white and dark meat for the Thanksgiving dinner.

CULTIVATING ALFALFA FIELDS

Weeds Are Destroyed, Moisture Is Conserved and Soil Put in Better Condition.

It is well to remember that the alfalfa crop responds to cultivation as readily as any other crop on the farm. Many alfalfa fields would give increased yields if they received a thorough cultivation. The chief benefits derived by cultivation are destroying weeds, conserving moisture and putting the soil in better physical condition.

HOT WEATHER DISHES.

There is nothing one may prepare which takes the place of salads of various kinds, especially on hot days.

Simple Onion Salad.—Take the small green-topped onions, slice very thin and serve with a dressing of sour cream, salt and paprika. Served with bread and butter it is a meal with a glass of good cold milk.

Tomato Jelly Salad.—To one can of stewed tomato, well strained, add one teaspoonful each of salt and powdered sugar and two-thirds of a box of gelatin softened in one-half cupful of cold water. Pour into small cups and chill. When ready to serve unmold on head lettuce and serve covered with mayonnaise dressing.

Tomatoes Stuffed With Asparagus Tips.—Prepare tomato shell; invert to drain. Cut cold cooked and seasoned asparagus tips in bits and fill the shells after salting them. Season with grated onion, cover with mayonnaise and serve well chilled.

Sweetbreads and Cucumber Salad.—Mix cooked sweetbreads, cut in dice with half the amount of cubed cucumbers and a half cupful of diced celery. Mix with mayonnaise and serve on lettuce.

Cottage Cheese and Chives Salad.—Mix two cupfuls of well-seasoned cottage cheese which has been enriched with thick cream with one-half cupful of finely minced chives. Mold and serve with a simple bottled dressing.

Cucumbers in Sour Cream.—Peel and slice cucumbers as usual, cover with cold water to which a tea-spoonful of salt has been added. Let them stand until well wilted, drain and plunge into ice water. Let stand for a half hour, drain and dry on a cloth, then cover with a thick, sour cream which has been seasoned with salt, cayenne pepper, a dash of mustard and a tea-spoonful of sugar. If the cream is not sour enough add a dash of vinegar. Serve well chilled.

Summer Dessert.—Fill a baked pastry shell with fresh fruit, top with ice cream or whipped cream and serve from the table.

Cutting Answer.
"Mr. Irwin," said the office clerk, "you broke a pair of scissors, and promised to buy a new pair to replace them. So far you haven't bought them." "Gosh," answered Mr. Irwin, "that's simply sheer carelessness."

Regulating the Concrete Mixer.
The hour glass principle has been employed in an almost automatic concrete mixer in which the ingredients fall through three cone-shaped hoppers in succession and are kneaded together.

Lady-Slipper.
Three of the well-known varieties of the beautiful orchid found in the temperate zone are called the pink lady-slipper, the yellow moccasin flower, and the showy lady-slipper which is white with purplish pink or crimson stripes. These names have been given the flowers as they bear a curious resemblance to a slipper.

SENATOR HARDING PROPOSES WELFARE POST IN CABINET

Tells 12,000 Women He Favors
Department in Defense of
Mothers, Childhood and
Public Health.

TO ADVANCE SOCIAL JUSTICE.

Emphasizes Need of Safeguarding Women on American Farms.
Stands for Enforcement of Law

Marion, O.—The creation of a Federal Department of Public Welfare to function in defense of maternity, childhood and public health was proposed by Senator Harding in a speech on social justice to 5,000 women who came to his front porch from all points of the compass.

Such a department, said Senator Harding, must "avoid the fearful results of bureaucracy. There can be no more efficient way of advancing a humanitarian program," he said, "than by adapting the machinery of our Federal Government to the purposes we desire to attain. While others may have their eyes fixed upon some particular piece of legislation or more particular policy of social justice which calls for the sympathetic interest of us all, I call, without hesitation, that our primary consideration must be the machinery of administration, and that when the time comes for us to reorganize our administrative government in Washington we must all stand together for the creation of a Department of Public Welfare.

"I pledge myself today," he said, "to support with all that is in me whatever practical policy of social welfare and social justice can be brought forward by the combined wisdom of all Americans. Nothing can concern me as an American, more deeply than the health, the happiness and the enlightenment of every fellow American.

Must Avoid Paternalism.
"The social justice that I conceive is not paternalism. It would be easy to make it so, and dangerous indeed to the best spirit that Americans can have—the spirit of expressing by the individual free will one's own merits, capacity and worth. We do not want government to suppress that expression of free will, even by benevolence, but we do mean to preserve in America an equal opportunity and a preparedness for self-expression therein, even though we use the government to do it.

"I believe that there is no step more practical, no step which will mean more to the growth of America's social welfare; no step which will guarantee better America's social justice, than one which I propose to you.

Dangers to Be Avoided.
"I have no doubt that there will be some who will find in this proposal cause for calling me an extremist, but when we have a task to do, which has been dictated by our conscience and approved by our wisdom, let us straightway find the way to do it. I do not say this without a word of caution. I recognize certain dangers, which are always presented when government undertakes large and detailed tasks."

Tasks of Social Justice.
Senator Harding pointed out the necessity of going forward upon a sure footing and declared:
"When making the proposal for a department of public welfare to America, I am aware that I have made a step in advance of any platform. We all know that we face tasks of social justice, which we must undertake with dispatch and efficiency. Who can suggest one of these tasks which can supersede in our hearts, or in the rank which foresight and wisdom will give that of the protection of our maternity?"

"The protection of the motherhood of America can not be accomplished until the state and the nation have enacted, and by their example, have enforced customs, which protect womanhood itself. I know full well that there are women who insist that women shall be treated upon the same basis that men are treated."

Senator Harding discussed the need of adequate protection for women in industry and expressed his belief in the wisdom of an eight-hour day for women workers. He emphasized the need of safeguarding the women on American farms. He proposed putting the Children's Bureau under the suggested Department of Public Welfare, and urged prevention of abuses of child labor.

"I must not fail," Senator Harding went on, "to speak to you today of one of the measures of social justice and social welfare not often catalogued in this manner, but perhaps more important than any we have considered. I refer to the enforcement of law. It will not be my business when elected to decide what laws shall be. It will be legitimate for me to invoke public opinion for their enactment, but such a call to public opinion must be based more upon the duty of the Executive of the nation to give facts to the people than upon his desire to give opinion, theory and propaganda. The enforcement of the law is an Executive responsibility and must be undertaken by the Executive without regard for his personal approval or disapproval of the law, which it has been the people's will to enact."
